So much more than just a supplier

Your Aritech Germany team serving Germany, Austria and Switzerland

Aritech Germany part of Carrier Fire & Security Deutschland GmbH is the German sales unit that supplies electronic security products and systems to professional installers. For more than 40 years, this has been the trustworthy contact for advice, training and assistance to solve small and large security issues.

Sales service

The sales and customer service team provides its customers and end users with a range of helpful tools and advice, while offering introductions to the latest technology and solutions. Providing an answer to a problem often translates into selecting the right components that make up a security system.

Sales Service

Commercial Support.
A team of enthusiastic account managers and customer service representatives are available to answer a variety of questions to help find a solution to your technical challenges.

Customer Service

Our team is trained in the latest products and technologies to assist you when it comes to selecting the right solution for your needs. Your order is processed and looked after so you can focus on your every-day business.

Technical Service

We want to be the right partner to help you. As a professional security installer, we provide you with technical support in the form of telephone support, online support via TeamViewer, internal test setups for finding solutions and, if necessary, on-site assistance.

With a strong focus on customer centricity, the expertise of our product specialists is an important part of our organization.

Project Support

Understanding a security issue for a particular market or situation can sometimes be a challenge. Thanks to the knowledge and experience from which Carrier Fire & Security can draw in the Netherlands and far beyond makes it an extremely suitable discussion partner for installers and end customers. When solving complex security issues, we are able to draw on expertise and knowledge from our global support teams.

RFI - RFP - RFQ

'Request For Information', 'Request For Proposal' and 'Request For Quotation' are the steps an end user usually take in large-scale projects. For these long-term projects we have Business Development Managers in place that can work directly with the end user. Straight forward advice and innovative ideas have helped countless end users in their search for the ideal solution to their needs.

After Sales Service

Technology is constantly evolving and so are security systems. We are proud of the long life span of our solutions, a corresponding guarantee period and that system extensions, repairs and exchanges remain possible for many years after commercialization.

Training

Carrier continuously invests in training for its own staff and for its customers.

Training is an investment in yourself, your staff and your company and we provide a range of training options to suit your own individual needs.

This to enable installation and maintenance to the satisfaction of the end user.

An overview of the available class room and on-line training courses on new products and their latest developments are published on our website.

Reputation in the market

Our products find their application in all security and live safety for each specific market segment – tailor made.

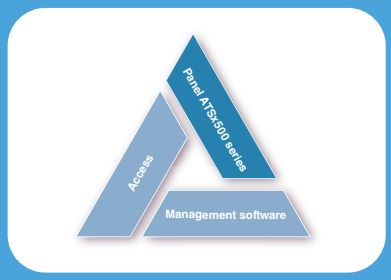
Why we are so engaging

Security solutions – best in class !

Cyber security

All of our solutions and new developments take cybersecurity into account and are tested and certified internally and externally.



Our security system Advisor Advanced (ATSx500A) combined with the cloud-based UltraSync communication solution has received the 3 Shields CNPP NFA2p electronic security certification for a complete system, the highest level available.

Integrated security solution

Security and facility management have become complex business functions, the security of employees, visitors and property being the top priority when managing them.

We offer turnkey, affordable solutions that combine the best of intrusion detection, access control and video surveillance. All in one interface.

At its core, Privacy by Design calls for the inclusion of data protection as an integral part of the design of systems. We are committed to privacy and cyber security compliance in its products.

Thanks to UltraSync, we offer security professionals fast & easy installation, optimal support and maximum safety around the clock, anywhere in the world.

Privacy by Design

Carrier enables compliance with data protection requirements by implementing the principles of “Privacy by Design” that are required by law under the GDPR.

Communication Platform

UltraSync is a highly secured cloud solution that connects our security solutions with remote applications around the clock and almost in real time.

Innovation & Quality

Center of Excelence (CoE)

CoE (Center of Excellence) is the link between the local product specialists and the research and development team. It is a team of engineers who deal with the most complex requirements from across the EMEA region.

The coordination of specific product improvements and market requirements ensures that products in the next stage of development are even better suited to the wishes of end users and installers.

Research & Development

Aritech products are manufactured in various manufacturing facilities around the world. Research and development teams in Barcelona, Poland, the United States, Canada, South Africa, India and Australia share their expertise to develop the most efficient, cyber-secure, easy-to-use and affordable solutions that make our world a better place.

Certifications

Our commitment to comply with local regulations

In response to an increasingly challenging regulatory environment, Global Security Products ensures that the product range is further developed to meet EN and local security approvals.
