

Modular presentation systems

Bricks Presentation has developed a wide range of presentation systems for both flowers/plants and trees. These presentation systems are modular, have an ebb and flow bottom and can be customised to any corporate style. Besides providing Bricks presentations, it is also possible to order floor stickers, banners, table banners, flags and all kinds of signage. At Bricks Presentation, we print in-house with our hybrid UV printer. This allows us to control the entire process ourselves, resulting in fast delivery times and high quality.

Complete shop fitting

Need advice on shop fitting? You can come to Bricks Presentation for advice on shop layout (floor plan), routing, brand perception and communication, among other things. After we have visited you on location, we make a complete and concrete customised plan for this. In this way, the goal of, for example, unity in terms of house style with the right communication and image can be achieved step by step.

Concept development

At Bricks Presentation, we are strong in thinking along, developing and ultimately producing a product concept. On behalf of a grower, for example, we think along how to ensure that a product is better presented and ultimately sold. To this end, we can design the right custom-made display, which ensures the desired result through the right communication and appearance. We can handle the process of designing displays and designs and producing them in-house.
